DESIGNED BY EMPLOYERS, FOR EMPLOYERS.

Developed by a group of 20 businesses led by Serco, the Chartered Manager Degree Apprenticeship produces managers with the management skills and qualities required by employers of all sizes and from all sectors. The programme is tailored to the needs of the working day, balancing education and business demands.

EDUCATIONAL EXCELLENCE AND PROFESSIONALISM AS STANDARD.

Management apprentices follow a programme developed with the Small Business Charter, part of the Chartered Association of Business Schools, ensuring they earn degrees from renowned universities and business schools. Apprentices become affiliate members of the Chartered Management Institute, and will reach Chartered Manager status by the end of their apprenticeship.

FUNDING

The government funds up to two-thirds of the apprenticeship fees (up to £28,800, including incentives), with the employer contributing one-third.
