

CHARTERED MANAGEMENT CONSULTANT AWARD

RAGHVEER RAMKUMAR
Senior Consultant - Strategy & Insights, Arup

To me, being Chartered means being valued for the experience, expertise, and skills I bring to the table.

WITHOUT A DOUBT, I KNEW THAT ChMC WAS GOING TO BENEFIT MY CAREER AND ENHANCE MY PERSONAL BRAND.

"I recognised two great organisations - the Chartered Management Institute and the Management Consultancies Association - coming together to develop the first ever chartership for Management Consultants, recognising consistent, high levels of professional competence and achievement.

I led Arup's efforts to successfully achieve ChMC accreditation for our development programme. Doing the mapping exercise for the whole firm gave me confidence and motivated me to personally embark on this journey myself. I received sponsorship from Arup to go through the experienced route to gain my own Chartered status. I also received mentoring support from colleagues as I was developing my submission.

ChMC is helping me take more pride in the work I do and making me feel more committed to the Management Consulting profession. The competency framework provides me with a good reference point to reflect and introspect on gaps to fill and ends to sharpen thus helping me own and take control of my career.

To me, being Chartered means being valued for the experience, expertise, and skills I bring to the table. It holds the individual, the industry and the accredited organisation at a high standard and most importantly instils trust and gives confidence to our clients in our capabilities to offer services in this field.

I would highly recommend ChMC to individuals aspiring to develop their career in Management Consultancy. The competency framework provides a holistic view of the capabilities required to develop as a fully rounded professional while providing a pathway to go about achieving it."

Raghveer Ramkumar is a Senior Consultant at Arup and believes that becoming a Chartered Management Consultant sets a benchmark for his professional development, explaining "The continuous learning aspect of the accreditation is helping me to take personal responsibility for my own professional development."

ABOUT THE AWARD

The Chartered Management Consultant (ChMC) award is the most prestigious award that can be achieved within the Management Consultancy profession. It has been developed jointly by the Management Consultancies Association (MCA) and the Chartered Management Institute (CMI).
