

CODE OF CONDUCT AND PRACTICE.

Your guide to the Institute code of conduct

CODE OF CONDUCT AND PRACTICE.

As a member of the Institute (encompassing CMI, IC and WiM), we expect you to demonstrate the highest standards of ethics and professionalism.

Behaving in an open, honest and trustworthy manner

Examples include:

- Being responsible and accountable for your actions and decisions.
- Exhibiting and defending professional and personal integrity at all times.
- Disclosing any personal interest which may affect your decisions.
- Acting reasonably and justifiably in identifying and resolving conflicts of values, including those of an ethical nature.
- Being truthful and transparent in all communications.
- Neither offering nor accepting gifts, hospitality or services which could create, or imply, an improper obligation.
- Ensuring compliance with all relevant legislation and regulations in the countries where you are operating.

Continually developing and maintaining professional knowledge and competence

Examples include:

- Striving for excellence at all times.
- Continuing to develop professionally, maintaining relevant knowledge and competence.
- Acting only in accordance with your level of capability and in accordance with the highest standards of professional behaviour and performance.
- Seeking support if asked to act beyond your current level of capability.

Creating a positive impact on society

Examples include:

- Treating others fairly and with respect, promoting equality of opportunity, diversity and inclusion, and supporting human rights and dignity.
- Addressing the interests and needs of all stakeholders in a balanced manner.
- Ensuring that the environmental impact of your work is as positive as possible.
- Challenging and reporting conduct or behaviour which you suspect to be unlawful or unethical, and encouraging others to do so.
- Recognising and valuing the responsibilities you have to the communities in which you operate.
- Exhibiting personal leadership as a role model for maintaining the highest standards.

Acting in the best interests of your organisation, customers, clients and/or partners

Examples include:

- Safeguarding and not seeking personal advantage from all confidential, proprietary, commercially sensitive and personal information that comes into your possession, only disclosing it to those entitled to receive it.
- Acting in a manner which supports the organisation's overall objectives and reputation.
- Serving customers and clients to the highest possible standards at all times.
- Establishing, maintaining and developing business relationships based on mutual confidence, trust and respect.

Respecting the people with whom you work

Examples include:

- Supporting colleagues to understand fully their responsibilities, areas of authority and accountability.
- Encouraging and assisting colleagues to develop their skills and progress their careers, valuing the contribution which they make, and recognising their achievements.
- Promoting, enhancing, sharing and encouraging best management practice.
- Acting consistently and fairly when addressing personal performance or standards of behaviour.
- Having regard for the physical and mental health, safety and well-being of colleagues, recognising their specific needs and the pressures and problems they face.
- Demonstrating respect in all interactions, whether face-to-face or virtually.

Upholding the reputation of the profession and the Institute

Examples include:

- Promoting the Institute's mission, vision, values and standing as the UK's leading professional body for management, leadership, and consultancy.
- Upholding the profession's integrity and good standing, and refraining from conduct which detracts from its reputation.
- Observing the standards of professional conduct and behaviour as set out in this Code, and other relevant professional standards.
- Complying with all reasonable requests made by the Institute for information to support its activities.

Chartered Management Institute (CMI)

CMI is the only chartered professional body in the UK dedicated to promoting the highest standards in management and leadership excellence.

With a member community of over 100,000, CMI has been providing forward-thinking advice and support for more than 60 years. We continue to give managers and leaders, and the organisations they work in, the tools they need to improve their performance and make an impact.

We are a UK awarding body for management and leadership qualifications, and the only body that awards Chartered Manager, the hallmark of any professional manager.
