INTRODUCTION

About the Qualifications

QUALIFICATION OBJECTIVE

These qualifications are aimed at practising or aspiring managers and leaders who are typically accountable to a senior manager or business owner. The primary role of a practising or aspiring manager and leader is to lead and manage individuals and teams to deliver aims and objectives in line with organisational strategy.

Role and responsibilities may also include but are not limited to developing teams and individuals, creating operational plans, planning and managing projects, managing change, managing finance, resources and identifying new approaches to business activities, managing quality and continuous improvement as well as managing the human resources function.

The qualifications have been designed for practising or aspiring managers in roles such as:

- Operations Manager
- Divisional Manager
- Departmental Manager
- Regional Manager
- Specialist Manager

Extensive research has been undertaken to ensure that these qualifications reflect tasks and activities of managers in the aforementioned roles in the workplace. Sources of information include, but are not limited to:

1. Comparability to national management qualifications
2. 21st Century Leaders Paper
3. A review of the roles and responsibilities of managers sourced from a range of UK companies
4. Analysis of Apprenticeship Standard for Operations/Departmental Manager ST0385/01
5. Stakeholder consultation

TITLES AND REFERENCE NUMBERS

The titles given below are the titles as they will appear on the qualification when awarded to the Learner. The qualification reference number is the number allocated to the qualification by the Regulator at the time of submission, which confirms that this is a regulated qualification on the RQF and on the Register. The CMI code is the code which should be used when registering Learners with CMI.

Therefore all CMI Centres must use the full qualification title as per below when advertising or making reference to the qualifications.

»  KEY DATES

These qualifications are regulated from 1st July 2017 and the operational start date in CMI Centres is 1st October 2017. The qualification review date is 31st August 2022.

»  PROGRESSION OPPORTUNITIES

Upon successful completion of their qualification, learners are able to progress to further learning within the suite of Level 5 Qualifications in Management and Leadership - i.e. completing an Award and topping-up to Certificate or Diploma.

Learners may also wish to further their ongoing personal and professional development by accessing other CMI qualifications, such as the CMI Level 6 Qualifications in Management and Leadership with the goal of becoming a Chartered Manager.

Learners who are aspiring to a management role may progress to the job roles such as:

- Operations Manager
- Divisional Manager
- Departmental Manager
- Regional Manager
- Specialist Manager

»  ENTRY & RECRUITMENT

These qualifications can be offered to Learners from age 18. CMI does not specify entry requirements for these qualifications, but Centres are required to ensure that Learners admitted to the programme have sufficient capability at the right level to undertake the learning and assessment.

CMI Centres must ensure Learners are recruited with integrity onto appropriate qualifications that will:

- meet their needs
- enable and facilitate learning and achievement
- enable progression

In order to achieve this, the CMI Centre will need to:

- provide relevant programme information, guidance and advice, to enable informed Learner choice
- publish entry and selection criteria
- demonstrate that Learners are recruited with integrity
- carry out comprehensive Learner induction that:
  1. addresses programme and organisational requirements
  2. explains Learner facilities
  3. identifies Learners’ development needs
  4. develops an Individual Learning Plan

The qualification is offered in the medium of the English Language.
Qualification Requirements and Rules of Combination

The qualification structure and organisation of units for these qualifications have been informed by CMI 21st Century Leaders¹, and has two key themes:

- Foundations for Excellence
- Developing Capabilities, Delivering Results, Driving Best Practice

The qualification structure has been designed to support Learners to select combinations of units to address own development needs and interests. The units developed for each theme will also enable organisations to tailor the CMI Award/Certificate/Diploma to address specific organisational development needs.

Theme: Foundations for Excellence

One unit has been developed for this theme. These units focus on the foundations for management and leadership practice.

Theme: Developing Capabilities, Delivering Results, Driving Best Practice

This theme is split into 3 topic areas:

- Topic 1: Interpersonal Excellence – Managing People and Developing Relationships
  Managing people on a day to day basis is the focus of this topic.

This pathway is not mandatory for the Apprenticeship, however it is recommended where the CMI Level 5 Diploma in Management and Leadership is part of an Operations/Departmental Manager Apprenticeship Programme.
CMI does not specify the mode of delivery for its qualifications at Level 5; therefore CMI Centres are free to deliver the Level 5 qualifications using any mode of delivery that meets the needs of their Learners. However, CMI Centres should consider the Learners’ complete learning experience when designing the learning programmes.

CMI Centres must ensure that the chosen mode of delivery does not unlawfully or unfairly discriminate, whether direct or indirect, and that equality of opportunity is promoted. Where it is reasonable and practical to do so, it will take steps to address identified inequalities or barriers that may arise.

Please ensure that the content of the Centre Delivery plan is approved by the CMI Quality Manager.

For CMI requirements regarding Tutor/Deliverers of CMI qualifications please refer to the CMI Centre Handbook for more information.

» ACCESSIBILITY OF CMI QUALIFICATIONS

There may be incidents where Learners may require special consideration and reasonable adjustments to the delivery and assessment of qualifications. In the event of this, Centres should notify their allocated Quality Manager and CMI.

For further information, please see the CMI Reasonable Adjustments Procedure and the CMI Special Consideration Procedure.

» RECOGNITION OF PRIOR LEARNING (RPL)

There may be occasions where Learners request Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL). This can be applied by Centres. For further guidance on RPL and exemptions can be found in CMI RPL policy.
The criteria of the assessment of a CMI qualification will be to meet the assessment criteria detailed within each individual unit.

The primary interface with the Learner is the Assessor, whose job it is to assess the evidence presented by the Learner. The Assessor should provide an audit trail showing how the judgement of the Learner’s overall achievement has been arrived at.

The CMI Centre’s assessment plan, to be agreed with the Quality Manager, should include a matrix for each qualification showing how each unit is to be assessed against the relevant criteria and which specific piece or pieces of work will be identified in relation to each unit. It should also show how assessment is scheduled into the delivery programme.

In designing the individual tasks and activities, CMI Centres must ensure that:

1. the selected assessment task/activity is relevant to the content of the unit
2. there are clear instructions given to Learners as to what is expected
3. Learners are clearly told how long the assessment will take (if it is a timed activity), and what reference or other material they may use (if any) to complete it
4. the language used in the assessment is free from any bias
5. the language and technical terms used are at the appropriate level for the Learners

In addition to the specific assessment criteria in each unit, the Learner’s work must be:

- accurate, current and authentic
- relevant in depth and breadth

and must also show the Learner’s:

- clear grasp of concepts
- ability to link theory to practice, and
- ability to communicate clearly in the relevant discipline at the expected level for the qualification

LEARNER AUTHENTICITY

Learners are required to sign and date a Statement of Authenticity. The learner statement confirms the evidence submitted is all their own work and has not been completed by a third party. Additionally the learner statement confirms the evidence provided has been completed in accordance with CMI approved instructions.

Centres are required to complete a Centre Statement of Authenticity to confirm the learner is registered on a Chartered Management Institute (CMI) programme of study.

ASSESSMENT GRADING

The grading system for CMI qualifications is “Pass/Refer”. The external moderation of Learners’ work confirms that the required criteria for achievement have been met.
CMI Centres are, however, free to apply their own grade scales, but it must be understood that these are completely separate from the CMI qualification.

It is important to ensure consistency of assessment, and that demands made on Learners are comparable within and between CMI Centres. A number of assessment methods can be used.

For CMI requirements regarding Assessors and Internal Verifiers of CMI qualifications please refer to the CMI Centre Handbook for more information.

SUGGESTED ASSESSMENT METHODOLOGIES

CMI do not state the assessment method for its qualifications, instead supporting Centres in creating assessment plans to suit the needs of Learners and/or Employers. It is encouraged that a range of methods are used to ensure that all Learning Outcomes and Assessment Criteria are met, and to enhance Learners’ development.

In some instances, as well as written work, use can be made of technology. It is important, however, to ensure sufficient traceability for assessment and verification.

The following table presents an overview of the type of activities that patterns may be use to assess each unit. Further details are provided in the ‘Recommendations for Assessment’ section of each unit specification.

Group assessment is not a recognised assessment method for this qualification. Learners must provide evidence they meet the requirements of each assessment activity on their own merit.

» WORD COUNT AND APPENDICES

The written word, however generated and recorded, is still expected to form the majority of assessable work produced by Learners at Level 5. The guideline word count for units within this qualification are summarised below, and vary depending on size and content of the unit. There is a 10% allowance above/below these guidelines. For more information, please refer to the CMI Assessment Guidance Policy.

Learner work should aim to minimise the amount of unnecessary attachments or appendices. Information that is essential to the Learners work in order to meet the learning outcomes and assessment criteria should be included within the main body of the report. However, CMI understands that from time to time a Learner may need to include... additional supporting information which enhances the overall work and it is recommended that it is kept to a minimum and does not over-exceed.

EXTERNAL MARKING

As part of our dedicated service, Chartered Management Institute (CMI) Awarding Body offers the opportunity for all Centres to have their Learner’s assignments externally marked.

Some CMI Centres choose to send one assignment of the qualification to be externally marked, as it gives the Learner a CMI quality stamp, as it is marked and assessed by the Awarding Body.

This service provides CMI Centres with a simplistic, professional and cost effective way to get their CMI Learner’s work marked and certificated within a six week period. Please refer to fee’s guide for current pricing.

Learners’ work can be submitted up to three times, in the event of referrals. If the assessment remains referred after three attempts, it will be escalated to the Quality Manager and further submissions will be invoiced at the current fee.

Further information on this service and the units for which is available appears on the CMI website.

APPEALS AGAINST ASSESSMENT DECISIONS

In the event that a Learner wishes to appeal against an assessment decision, they can do so by following outlined procedures.

Where an assessment decision has been made by a CMI Centre, Learners must follow the Centre’s own Appeals Procedure in the first instance. If this procedure has been exhausted and remains unresolved, Learners may log a Stage 2 appeal with CMI.

Where an assessment decision has been made by CMI (via External Marking or Moderation) a Learner or a Centre may log a Stage 2 appeal with CMI.

For further information, please see CMI’s Enquiry and Appeals Procedure.

All these resources are freely available to members from one source. Definitions give you a headline understanding of topic; Checklists and Models provide the essentials; and books and articles enable you to research further. Depending on your need you choose how far you want to go.

E-journals

For in depth research try our e-journals service
CMI has joined forces with EBSCO Information Services to offer member’s access to Business Source: Corporate, a database providing direct access to articles on management and business from a range of academic journals and business magazines. Members also have access to country, company and industry reports from leading providers.

Access to Business Source Corporate is through ManagementDirect.

Online CPD

CPD can take many forms, but the most important feature of any activity you undertake is that there are clear learning outcomes. In many cases these may enable you to have a direct impact at work. Our online CPD scheme enables you to record your learning objectives, the activities you have undertaken and encourages you to assess its impact in your role as a manager. It also allows you to print reports for your reviews, appraisals or interviews.

Access to CPD is through ManagementDirect.
The units within these qualifications are different to other qualifications, and so the following summarises some key features:

- TUT refers to Total Unit Time. TUT is set based on estimated time expected for the average learner to be taught the content via formal Guided Learning, additional informal learning and preparation and completion of assessment.
- GLH refer to Guided Learning Hours. GLH is the estimated contact time the average earner has with tutors, trainers or facilitators as part of the learning process, it includes formal learning including classes, training sessions, coaching, seminars, live webinar and telephone tutorials and e-learning which is supervised. It is important to note that this also includes assessing learner’s achievements for competence based assessments.
- Key words highlight knowledge, skills and behaviours which will be developed.
- Indicative content has been developed to support the learner to understand the aims of learning outcomes and assessment criteria. It can also be used by tutors to develop lesson plans and schemes of work. The indicative content uses two phrases:
  - ‘May include but is not limited to’ – the indicative content is given as examples, which the learner may use or expand upon to complete an assessment
  - ‘Refers to’ – the indicative content included must be covered by the learner to meet the requirements of assessment. This instruction applies to learners on the Apprenticeship pathway who are required to know or understand specific information stipulated in the Apprenticeship Standard for Operations/Departmental Manager ST0385/01
- Recommendations for Assessment which provides a range of suggested assessment activities for actual or aspiring managers and leaders.
- Relationships to frameworks such as the Apprenticeship Standard and National Occupational Standards.
- Suggested reading/web resource materials developed to compliment the unit content. The primary resource/research tool referred to is ManagementDirect.

It is recommended that Learners have sight of each unit of study in preparation for assessment.

<td>Principles of Developing, Managing and Leading Individuals and Teams to Achieve Success</td>
<td>The ability to lead individuals and teams to success is arguably the most important skill a manager can possess. This unit focuses on the essential management and leadership skills required to fulfil this challenging but rewarding role. The unit opens by focusing on the theoretical and practical approaches to developing, leading, and managing teams (remote or multi-disciplinary). The manager will look at techniques to assess current and future team capabilities, including the role of recruitment, selection and staff development which supports this. On successful completion of the unit, the manager will not only know the principles of managing individuals and teams, but they will understand approaches for supporting, motivating and inspiring teams and individuals to exceed expectations.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>503</td>
<td>Principles of Managing and Leading Individuals and Teams to Achieve Success</td>
<td>When individuals and teams are managed well, organisations thrive and staff satisfaction increases. The aim of this unit is to equip managers with an in-depth understanding of the theoretical and practical approaches to leading and managing teams effectively. Managers will identify the techniques used to monitor and manage individual and team performance, assess current and future capabilities and adopt approaches to respond to these. On successful completion of the unit, managers will not only understand how to meet the challenge of leading individuals and teams, they will know how to support, motivate and inspire them to exceed expectations.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>504</td>
<td>Managing Performance</td>
<td>Managing the performance of staff is essential to the smooth running of an organisation. This unit evaluates the reasons for managing performance and the approaches that can be used. It explores methods of rewarding the performance of individuals who exceed expectations, and analyses ways of managing under performance in a professional and supportive manner. This unit focuses on the way performance management, when used effectively, is able to impact on individual and organisational achievement.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>505</td>
<td>Forming Successful Teams</td>
<td>Teams play a vital role in enabling organisations to achieve their goals. This unit focuses on the purpose and characteristics of successful teams. Learners’ will review theoretical and practical approaches to team formation; and be able to analyse, and respond to challenges which occur when new teams are formed proactively.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>506</td>
<td>Managing Equality, Diversity and Inclusion</td>
<td>Effective management of equality and diversity not only benefits staff and stakeholders, it can positively impact on an organisation’s achievement. This unit has been designed to enable the learner to analyse the requirements for managing, monitoring and reporting on equality, diversity and inclusion. It focuses on the skills required to lead by example and how to adapt leadership styles to support others to see the benefits of inclusive practice. On successful completion of the unit, learners will be armed with the knowledge required to develop and implement an Equality action plan, and monitor its outcomes to make continuous improvement.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>507</td>
<td>Principles of Delivering Coaching and Mentoring</td>
<td>Coaching and mentoring are proven techniques used to enhance the skills, knowledge, talents and potential of individuals as part of an organisational learning and development strategy. This unit explores the principles and practices of coaching and mentoring, and the impact these techniques can have in the development of a high-performance culture.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>508 Principles of Developing a Skilled and Talented Workforce</td>
<td>Having a skilled and talented workforce is fundamental if an organisation is to succeed. As responsibility for individual and team development becomes increasingly devolved to managers, it is essential they have the knowledge, skills and capabilities to ensure development needs are successfully met. This unit has been designed to enable the learner to understand the role of the manager in workforce development, and the scope and purpose of development activities. They will also have opportunity to explore innovative approaches for delivering workforce development and how well chosen learning and development activities can contribute to a talent management strategy.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>---</td>
<td>---</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>509 Managing Stakeholder Relationships</td>
<td>Good relationships, whether they are with customers, suppliers, partners or staff, are a key contributor to an organisation’s success. To build stakeholder relationships that are long lasting and sustainable, they need to be planned and developed. This unit explores the types and purposes of stakeholder relationships and the skills required to overcome challenges and manage these effectively.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>510 Managing Conflict</td>
<td>Managing conflict takes resilience. It requires the ability to evaluate complex information, make evidence based judgements and act professionally within the bounds of organisational and legal frameworks. This unit is designed to equip the learner with strategies to manage conflict with confidence, find creative solutions and make difficult decisions.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>511 Principles of Recruiting, Selecting and Retaining Talent</td>
<td>Recruiting and selecting staff is a major challenge in a competitive market. Organisations are increasingly looking for innovative approaches to recruit individuals from the broadest talent pool. This unit has been designed to equip learners with an understanding of the factors which impact on recruitment. They will know how to develop plans and strategies for selecting staff, and identify approaches for retaining the best of the best.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>512 Workforce Planning</td>
<td>All organisations need a workforce with skills and behaviours that will better enable them to meet their objectives. In competitive environments, having the right people in the right place and at the right time continues to be a challenge. The aim of this unit is to enable managers to understand the rationale for workforce planning and know how to develop a workforce plan to meet organisational objectives.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>513 Managing Projects to Achieve Results</td>
<td>The ability to manage projects is a vital skill for all managers. This unit focuses on the knowledge and skills required to manage projects successfully and overcome problems and challenges. It requires the learner to evaluate the methods and tools for planning tasks and activities, as well as knowing how to implement and manage project activities, build stakeholder relationships, manage resources and risk, monitor progress and report on outcomes.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>514 Managing Change</td>
<td>Change is inevitable if an organisation is to maintain competitiveness and currency of practice. This unit has been designed to enable the learner to evaluate types and reasons for change within organisations and be able to select and apply theoretical models for its management. The purpose is not only to enable learners to develop the skills to manage change and achieve set objectives, but to do so in a professional manner with open and honest communication throughout the entire process.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>515 Creating and Delivering Operational Plans</td>
<td>The ability to translate organisational objectives into operational plans is an essential management skill. The unit opens with the importance of understanding the strategic direction of the organisation and how to contribute to the strategic planning process. It then focuses on the knowledge and skills required to create and deliver operational plans. This includes the need to set key performance indicators, monitor quality and outcomes against the plan, and know how to effectively report on findings.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>516 Planning, Procuring and Managing Resources</td>
<td>Inadequate resourcing can impact on the ability to achieve objectives; whilst being over resourced has financial implications. This unit has been designed to enable managers to understand and respond to the challenge of managing and monitoring resources. Learners will understand the importance of effective and efficient resource use, identify and plan resource requirements and know how to procure resources in line with regulatory requirements.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>517 Principles of Innovation</td>
<td>Innovation has the power to transform organisations, teams and individual performance. When a culture of innovation and entrepreneurship thrives, new ideas and initiatives flourish. This unit has been designed to enable learners to identify opportunities for innovation in the workplace (which may be in the form of new working practices, processes, new products or services), analyse the rationale for developing initiatives and know how to turn ideas into reality.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>518 Managing Risk</td>
<td>Business outcomes are optimised when risks are identified and managed effectively. This unit has been designed to equip learners with an understanding of the scope and purpose of business risk management. This includes an evaluation of the types of business risks, the governance and approaches for managing these effectively, and how risk management can be implemented successfully within organisations.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>519 Managing Quality and Continuous Improvement</td>
<td>Quality may be defined as excellence, capacity, grade, worth or meeting customer expectations. Whilst the definition of quality can easily be found in a dictionary it is much harder to develop and maintain. This unit looks at the challenge of developing quality within organisations. It focuses on embedding continuous improvement into working practices. On successful achievement of this unit learners will understand the scope and purpose of quality management, approaches, tools and techniques for managing quality and how to judge its success.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>520 Managing Finance</td>
<td>Financial management skills are essential for all managers regardless of whether there is a dedicated finance team within an organisation. Financial acumen enhances decision making skills, which in turn supports management of projects, tasks and functional areas. This unit has been designed to enable learners to understand how financial systems within organisations operate. Learners will evaluate the sources of finance for organisations, and understand the principles for setting and managing budgets in line with regulatory and organisational guidelines. This unit has been designed to enhance the learner’s confidence and credibility in financial management, which will translate into improved management skills.</td>

<td>521 Using Data and Information for Decision Making</td>
<td>The ability to analyse and manage data and information can lead to increased competitiveness, innovation, productivity and customer satisfaction. However, with data and information volumes increasing at unprecedented levels, the ability to interpret, use, and harness ‘big data’ can become an organisational challenge. The aim of this unit is to equip learners with an understanding of the purpose and practices of interpreting, managing and presenting business data and information to inform decision making.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>522 Managing the Customer Experience</td>
<td>Delivering an exceptional customer experience is a challenge which requires skill, commitment, and an in-depth understanding of customer needs. The aim of the unit is to develop managers understanding of their role and responsibilities in managing the customer experience. Learners will develop an understanding of the key features of a customer service culture and the customer journey, which if managed effectively will impact on an organisations success.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>523 Principles of Marketing Products and Services</td>
<td>Marketing products and services is an activity which can be applied to a myriad of different business contexts. From utilising technology to create new processes and support services to improve the customer experience through to developing or adapting products or services to meet changing needs, the principles of marketing remain the same. The aim of this unit is for the learner to understand the role of marketing to achieve organisational objectives. The learner will analyse the marketing environment, understand how to market a product or service and know how to judge the success of marketing outcomes.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>524 Conducting a Management Project</td>
<td>Research into approaches to management and leadership can lead to dynamic results. Innovation, product development, performance improvement, change, customer service excellence, strategy and problem solving are just some of the results. Without research business can stagnate. The aim of the unit is for the learner to conduct management research which will have an impact on individual and/or organisational practice. It is expected that learners will plan and manage a genuine project in the workplace or an academic enquiry relevant to an identified business need or challenge.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>608 Strategic Corporate Responsibility and Sustainability</td>
<td>Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) and sustainability are topics keenly related to organisational accountability. Definitions and approaches taken to manage and lead CSR and sustainability vary according to the type and purpose of an organisation and its governance. Approaches typically include the development of aims and objectives, policy and strategy, with the intent to address the impact of an organisation's activity on society, the environment and a commitment to ethical and responsible conduct. The aim of this unit is to enable professional managers and leaders to understand CSR and sustainability in an organisational context. They will assess the enablers, constraints and barriers to its success, present a case for organisational engagement, identify approaches for its implementation and ultimately, identify strategies to gain ongoing stakeholder commitment.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>525 Using Reflective Practice to Inform Personal and Professional Development</td>
<td>Reflective practice is an essential management tool which supports the development of knowledge, skills and behaviours in the workplace. By consciously analysing own performance, decision making, leadership and management skills (in different situational contexts); opportunities for on-going development can be identified. The aim of the unit is to equip learners with the understanding of the value of reflective practice, and how reflection can be used as the basis of a meaningful personal and professional development.</td>

Aims of unit
The ability to lead individuals and teams to success is arguably the most important skill a manager can possess. This unit focuses on the essential management and leadership skills required to fulfil this challenging but rewarding role. The unit opens by focusing on the theoretical and practical approaches to developing, leading, and managing teams (remote or multi-disciplinary). The manager will look at techniques to assess current and future team capabilities, including the role of recruitment, selection and staff development which supports this. On successful completion of the unit, the manager will not only know the principles of managing individuals and teams, but they will understand approaches for supporting, motivating and inspiring teams and individuals to exceed expectations.

Key words
Theoretical models, practical approaches, team leaders, multi-disciplinary and remote teams, team capabilities, recruitment, learning and development, coaching and mentoring, motivation, good practice, high performing teams.

Learning outcome 1
Understand approaches to developing, managing and leading teams

Assessment criteria

1.1 Evaluate the use of theoretical models for developing, managing and leading teams

1.2 Discuss practical approaches for effective team management and leadership

1.3 Analyse strategies for managing team leaders

1.4 Develop approaches to respond to the challenges of managing and leading multiple and remote teams

Indicative content

1.1 Theoretical models may include but are not limited to differences between a group and a team, team types, Team Roles (Belbin, 1981), Team Management Wheel (Margerison and McCann, 1990), Model of Team Development (Tuckman, c.1965), Tannenbaum and Schmidt Leadership Continuum (1958), Blake and Mouton Managerial Grid (c.1950s), psychometric assessment tools (e.g. Myers-Briggs Type Indicator, 1943), Drivers of Employee Engagement (Robinson, Perryman and Hayday, 2004), Speed of Trust (Covey, 2008), Conflict Mode Instrument (Thomas and Kilman, 1974), Emotional Intelligence (Goleman, 1995).

1.2 Practical approaches refer to communicate organisational vision and goals and how these apply to the department and teams, and may include but are not limited to empowerment, delegation, collective ownership, conflict handling, creating a trusting environment, building resilience, taking responsibility versus blame culture, collaboration, fairness and parity, work allocation, cultural awareness, individual and team development.

1.3 Strategies may include but are not limited to delegation, monitoring performance, setting targets, support and guidance, supervision and meetings, learning and development.
1.4 Challenges may include but are not limited to use of communication (methods, types, times, frequency, availability, interpretation of communication used), access to business support, building and developing relationships, performance review, workload, conflict handling, quality and productivity, currency of working practice, time management, trust, morale, accountability, authority and autonomy, Five Dysfunctions of a Team (Lencioni, 2005).

Learning outcome 2

Understand approaches to achieving a balance of skills and experience in teams

Assessment criteria

2.1 Evaluate techniques for assessing current and future team capabilities and requirements

2.2 Analyse a process for recruiting team members

2.3 Assess the factors which impact on the selection of learning and development activities for individuals and teams

2.4 Examine the use of coaching and mentoring models to support team development

Indicative content

2.1 Techniques refer to identifying strengths and enabling development within the workplace and may include but are not limited to analysis of skills and experience (individuals and teams) against current organisational requirements (e.g. aims and objectives), identification of future organisational need (e.g. organisational strategy, projects, plans, production plans), skills matrix, capability assessment, structured performance reviews, identification of skills and experience gaps.

2.2 Process refers to individual and team and may include but is not limited to review staff requirements, consultation, formulate job and person specification, labour market research, compliance with legal and organisational requirements, create plan, approaches to attracting talent (e.g. advertising, recommendation, head hunting, internal recruitment, secondment, social networks), short list, interview, security checks, offer.

2.3 Factors may include but are not limited to budget/funding, physical location of team members, time, availability of suitable provider, shift patterns, compliance (including legal and industry specific regulation relating to the sector in which the organisation operates), return on investment, strategic objectives and priorities, learning styles, range of training needs.

Learning and development activities refer to talent management models and processes and develop, build and motivate teams and may include but are not limited to formal and informal, social and collaborative learning, on and off the job, face to face, blended or online learning, group or individual learning, coaching and mentoring, secondments and temporary promotion/role change, self-directed/distance learning, job shadowing, team building activities, communities of practice.

2.4 Use may include but is not limited to skills and talent development, embedding organisational culture and attitudes to diversity, personal support, enhancing/improving performance, career development, retention, engagement, empowerment, job satisfaction, develop and share good practice, management of change, communication, relationship development, reflective management, self-management.

Models may include but are not limited to the concept of the manager as coach (Rogers, Gilbert and Whittleworth, 2012), coaching and mentoring models (e.g. GROW Model (Whitmore, 1992), ACHIEVE Coaching Model (Dembkowski and Eldridge, 2003), ARROW (Somers, 2006), CLEAR (Hawkins, 2012)), Cognitive Behavioural Coaching (CBC), Heron’s Six Categories of Intervention (1999), OSCAR (Gilbert and Whittleworth, 2002), RAM (Bee and Bee, 2007), STEPPA (McLeod, 2003), Alfred & Garvey’s Three Stage Process (2006) storytelling.

Learning outcome 3

Know techniques for leading individuals and teams to achieve success

Assessment criteria

3.1 Discuss methods used to monitor and manage individual and team performance
Indicative content

3.1 Methods
Methods refer to performance management techniques and may include but are not limited to HR systems and processes, internal and external quality standards, audit, qualitative measures (e.g. customer feedback, opinions, views, reviews) and quantitative measures (e.g. SMART objectives, key performance indicators (KPIs), scorecards (e.g. Balanced Scorecard, Kaplan and Norton, 1992), error rates, output, benchmarks and targets), service level agreements (SLAs), speed of response, structured performance reviews, 180°/360° feedback, disciplinary procedures.

3.2 Good practice
Good practice refers to manage talent and performance and may include but are not limited to feedback, constructive criticism, action planning including PIPS (performance improvement plans), training, coaching or mentoring, formal performance management processes, rewards, incentives, recognition and praise, Psychological Contract (Rousseau, 1989).

3.3 Motivational techniques
Motivational techniques refers to how to work collaboratively with others, motivate and improve performance, give constructive feedback and challenge where necessary, enabling development within the workplace and may include but are not limited to set stretch goals and objectives, create energy and enthusiasm, inspire others, conflict resolution, increased cooperation, communicating shared purpose, vision and direction, building trust, incentives and rewards, Vroom’s Expectancy Theory (1964), Motivation and Management Systems (Likert, 1967).

Recommendations for assessment

Learners may approach the assessment in a number of ways. All assessment criteria must be met. The following opportunities are recommendations for guidance purposes only.

1. The learner may be asked to write an account or assignment on approaches to leading, managing and developing individuals and teams.
2. The learner may be asked to respond to a scenario based on how they would lead, manage and develop individuals and teams.
3. Learners may write a report based on the principles of leading, managing and developing high performing individuals and teams.
4. The learner may draw upon their own experience of leading, managing and developing individuals and teams within their own organisation. They may present work based evidence accompanied by reports/reflective accounts to meet each assessment criteria.

Further guidance

It is not a requirement for the learner to cover all aspects of the indicative content when completing the assessment. The learner is encouraged to select and present well chosen information and examples to evidence they sufficiently understand the assessment criteria.

Aims of unit
When individuals and teams are managed well, organisations thrive and staff satisfaction increases. The aim of this unit is to equip managers with an in-depth understanding of the theoretical and practical approaches to leading and managing teams effectively. Managers will identify the techniques used to monitor and manage individual and team performance, assess current and future capabilities and adopt approaches to respond to these. On successful completion of the unit, managers will not only understand how to meet the challenge of leading individuals and teams, they will know how to support, motivate and inspire them to exceed expectations.

Key words

Managing the performance of staff is essential to the smooth running of an organisation. This unit evaluates the reasons for managing performance and the approaches that can be used. It explores methods of rewarding the performance of individuals who exceed expectations, and analyses ways of managing under performance in a professional and supportive manner. This unit focuses on the way performance management, when used effectively, is able to impact on individual and organisational achievement.

Keywords
Organisational and legal framework, performance management, individual needs, approaches, formal, ethical, organisational and legal frameworks, exceeding expectations, ethical.

Learning outcome 1
Understand the rationale for managing performance within organisations

Assessment criteria
1.1 Justify the rationale for managing performance within organisations

Indicative content
1.1 Rationale may include but is not limited to improving and sustaining organisational performance, productivity, driving quality, high performance working, organisational agility, well-being, work-life balance, identifying talent and potential, individual needs and capabilities, preventing poor performance from escalating, problem resolution.

Learning outcome 2
Understand frameworks, diagnostic and evaluation tools used for performance management

Assessment criteria
2.1 Examine the impact of legal and organisational frameworks on performance management
2.2 Evaluate the diagnostic and evaluation tools which support performance management

Indicative content

Organisational frameworks HR systems and processes including performance management, disciplinary and grievance, conduct and capability, recruitment, learning and development, reward, induction and on-boarding, talent management, dignity at work, absence and time management, workforce planning, payroll, performance management standards.

Policies and standards including health, safety, well-being and security, equality and diversity, data
2.2 Diagnostic and evaluation tools may include but are not limited to personal development review (PDR), performance improvement plan (PIP), 360° appraisal, peer review and self-review, psychometric profiling, ongoing and periodic review, assessment centres, skills audits, performance data, key performance indicators (KPIs).

Learning outcome 3

Know how to manage performance

Assessment criteria

3.1 Discuss good practice principles for managing performance

3.2 Examine the use of formal processes for managing performance

3.3 Analyse the relationship between signs and causes of underperformance

3.4 Evaluate approaches to respond to challenges when managing underperformance

3.5 Recommend techniques for developing and managing individuals who exceed expectations

Indicative content

3.1 Principles may include but are not limited to ethical approaches, evidence based judgements, use of theoretical models (e.g. Appreciative Inquiry, Cooperrider and Srivastva, 1980’s), fairness, impartial, rational, listening, confidentiality, maintaining records, employee engagement, application of legal and organisational frameworks, seeking advice and guidance, proportionate response (Armstrong, 2008; ACAS, 2014).

3.2 Formal process may include but are not limited to performance improvement plans (PIP), disciplinary, capability, suspension, redeployment, termination (ACAS Dismissing Employees).

3.3 Signs may include but are not limited to failure to achieve set targets, sickness absence and lateness, behavioural change (e.g. quiet and withdrawn, aggression, conflict, chaotic), loss of enthusiasm, demotivated.

Causes may include but are not limited to work related issues (e.g. capability, lack of agility/resilience, relationships, change of role, change in strategic direction, bullying, whistle blowing, restructure, changes to management/structure) and/or changes to personal circumstances (physical health, mental health, family care issues, bereavement).

3.4 Challenges may include but are not limited to lack of confidence, knowledge of process, time constraints, dealing with denial, managing stress, expectations from senior management, lack of support, targets, maintain business continuity, staff morale, anger, alienation of colleagues, threats of bullying or harassment.

3.5 Techniques may include but are not limited to identify potential, share potential within the organisation, motivate, engage in a breadth of activities, signpost to learning and development, intrinsic and extrinsic reward and recognition, development of work role (e.g. champions or super users, leader or technical experts), job redesign, job enrichment and enhancement, promotion, secondment, talent management

Recommendations for assessment

Learners may approach the assessment in a number of ways. All assessment criteria must be met. To enable this to be achieved effectively the unit has been written in the sequence in which performance management is carried out. The following opportunities are recommendations for guidance purposes only.

1. The learner may be asked to write an account or assignment on the principles of managing performance.
2. The learner should draw upon their own experience either from their current work role, paid or voluntary. Performance management is not constrained by being in a particular role and can include planning for a future role.
3. If not in employment, learners can refer to organisations they are familiar with e.g. a past employer or as part of a scenario or case study.
4. Learners may present work based evidence accompanied by reports or reflective accounts to meet each of the assessment criteria.

Further guidance
It is not a requirement for the learner to cover all aspects of the indicative content when completing the assessment. The learner is encouraged to select and present well chosen information and examples to evidence they sufficiently understand the assessment criteria.

RQF level: 5

Guided learning hours: 17

Total unit time: 38

Target audience: This unit is a barred combination with CMI unit 502.

Aims of unit: Teams play a vital role in enabling organisations to achieve their goals. This unit focuses on the purpose and characteristics of successful teams. Learners’ will review theoretical and practical approaches to team formation; and be able to analyse, and respond to challenges which occur when new teams are formed proactively.

Keywords: Team formation, starting up a team, team structures, team dynamics, team roles, team size, skills, motivation, multi-disciplinary teams, remote teams.

Learning outcome 1

Understand the purpose and characteristics of successful teams

Assessment criteria

1.1 Examine the factors to consider when forming a team

1.2 Analyse the characteristics of successful teams using theoretical models

1.3 Specify the purpose of different types of teams within organisations

Indicative content

1.1 Factors may include but are not limited to goals, objectives, urgency, duration, organisation structure, existing human resources models (fixed/part-time/permanent/zero hours contracts, internal/external recruitment, salaried/associate/consultancy positions), skills and capabilities of team members, culture and motivation.

1.2 Theoretical models may include but are not limited to Team Management Profile, (Margerison and McCann, 1995), Interpersonal Communication Skills (Shannon and Weaver,1949), Emotional Intelligence (Goleman, 1995), Vrooms Expectancy Theory (1964), Likert’s Four Management Systems (Likert, 1967).

1.3 Purpose may include but is not limited to short term, discrete piece of work (project, task force, committee, working party) or long term (new department or division, related to new product or service).

Types of teams may include but are not limited to temporary, permanent, functional/operational, departmental, project, multi-disciplinary, virtual, remote/dispersed, matrix/cross functional, hierarchical, multi-site, self-managed.

Learning outcome 2

Understand approaches to team formation

Assessment criteria

2.1 Evaluate theoretical models used for team formation

2.2 Assess practical approaches to team formation
Indicative content

2.1 Theoretical models may include but are not limited to Team Roles (Belbin, 1981), Team Size (Dunbar’s Number, 2010), Stages of Team Development (Tuckman, 1965), Shamrock Organisation (Handy, 1989), Speed of Trust (Covey, 2008).

2.2 Practical approaches may include but are not limited to creation of team culture, embracing cultural differences, team function and structure, accountability, definition of roles, requirement to be reactive/responsive/flexible, assessment of potential team members’ capabilities, skills mix, IT literacy, human resources protocols, competency frameworks, working patterns, pay and conditions, physical location and accommodation, time differences, access to technology, business support, access to training and development, establishing communication strategies and quality standards.

Learning outcome 3

Know how to analyse and respond to the challenges of team formation

Assessment criteria

3.1 Analyse challenges which occur in team formation

3.2 Recommend approaches for responding to challenges when forming teams

Indicative content

3.1 Challenges may include but are not limited to functional and cultural differences (Culture Model, Schneider, 1999), professional expectations, team purpose, disparity between pay and conditions (e.g. temporary teams, TUPE arrangements), existing allegiances, priorities and workloads, confidentiality, information sharing, coping with change, re-forming (Tuckman, 1965).

3.2 Approaches may include but are not limited to governance, clarifying lines of authority, accountability, roles and expectations, providing technology and resources, leadership style and vision, communication, Conflict Mode Instrument (Thomas and Kilmann, 1974).

Learning outcome 4

Know how to evaluate the performance of a newly formed team

Assessment criteria

4.1 Recommend approaches for measuring the performance of a newly formed team against organisational objectives

Indicative content

4.1 Approaches refer to quantitative (e.g. SMART objectives, strategic objectives, key performance indicators (KPIs), internal and external quality standards, audit, service level agreements, project plans, target setting, quantitative (e.g. observation of knowledge, skills and behaviours and commitment to mission, vision, values).

Recommendations for assessment

Learners may approach the assessment in a number of ways. All assessment criteria must be met. The following opportunities are recommendations for guidance purposes only.

1. The learner may be asked to write an account or assignment on the principles of forming successful teams.
2. The learner may be asked to respond to a scenario based on how they would form a new team.
3. Learners may write a report based on the principles of forming a new team.
4. The learner may draw upon their own experience of forming teams within their own organisation.
5. Learners may present work based evidence accompanied by reports/reflective accounts to meet each assessment criteria.

Further guidance
It is not a requirement for the learner to cover all aspects of the indicative content when completing the assessment. The learner is encouraged to select and present well chosen information and examples to evidence they sufficiently understand the assessment criteria.

Learning outcome 4

Know how to monitor and report on equality, diversity and inclusion
Assessment criteria

4.1 Recommend methods for monitoring outcomes against targets to promote continuous improvement

4.2 Examine methods for reporting outcomes to staff and stakeholders

Indicative content

4.1 Methods for monitoring may include but are not limited to organisational process data, surveys, benchmarking activities, regional and national trends, quality standards, mystery shopper, analysis of customer and staff complaints, litigation, audits, and improvement targets.

4.2 Methods for reporting may include but are not limited to internal reports, external diversity reports, newsletters and articles, briefings, motivational notices, case studies, blogs.

Recommendations for assessment

Learners may approach the assessment in a number of ways. All assessment criteria must be met. The following opportunities are recommendations for guidance purposes only.

1. The learner may be asked to write an account or assignment on the principles of managing equality, diversity and inclusion in the workplace.
2. The learner may be asked to respond to a scenario based on how they would manage equality, diversity and inclusion.
3. Learners may write a report based on the principles of managing equality, diversity and inclusion.
4. The learner may draw upon their own experience of managing equality, diversity and inclusion within their own organisation.
5. They may present work based evidence (such as an action plan which is directly attributed to the learner) accompanied by reports/reflective accounts to meet each assessment criteria.
6. Learners may wish to create a guide on how to develop and promote equality, diversity and inclusion within an organisation.

Further guidance

It is not a requirement for the learner to cover all aspects of the indicative content when completing the assessment. The learner is encouraged to select and present well chosen information and examples to evidence they sufficiently understand the assessment criteria.

Aims of unit

Having a skilled and talented workforce is fundamental if an organisation is to succeed. As responsibility for individual and team development becomes increasingly devolved to managers, it is essential they have the knowledge, skills and capabilities to ensure development needs are successfully met. This unit has been designed to enable the learner to understand the role of the manager in workforce development, and the scope and purpose of development activities. They will also have opportunity to explore innovative approaches for delivering workforce development and how well chosen learning and development activities can contribute to a talent management strategy.

Keywords

Skills, talent, development, benefits, impact, organisational and legal frameworks, technology, strategy, innovative

Learning outcome 1

Understand the benefits of developing a skilled and talented workforce

Assessment criteria

1.1 Assess the impact of workforce development on organisations

1.2 Examine the impact of workforce development on an organisation’s external stakeholders

1.3 Discuss the benefits of workforce development for individuals and teams

Indicative content

1.1 Impact may include but are not limited to agility and greater flexibility, improved quality, benchmarking, improved outcomes from inspection audits e.g. BSI and IIP, improved customer satisfaction, positive cost benefit analysis, improved environmental impact, ROI, financial stability.

1.2 Stakeholders may include but are not limited to customers, suppliers and partners, potential employees, customers, suppliers, regulatory organisations, general public, shareholders.

1.3 Benefits may include but are not limited to individual and team growth, enhanced team work, increased productivity, greater levels of engagement, wellbeing, succession planning (Larcker and Scott, 2014), increased motivation, greater risk management and planning for business continuity, greater resilience, flexibility, innovation and ideas generation, learning organisation.

Learning outcome 2

Know how to measure the impact of workforce development

Assessment criteria
4.1 Examine methods for measuring the impact of workforce development
4.2 Analyse methods to sustain the impact of workforce development

Indicative content

4.1 Methods for measuring may include but are not limited to customer feedback, line manager and peer feedback, formal measures/metrics (e.g. return on investment (ROI), Kirkpatrick’s Four Levels of Training Evaluation (2006), skills assessments including tests and examinations, reduced turnover, improved engagement, employee voice and use of staff satisfaction studies and temperature checks.

4.2 Methods to sustain may include but are not limited to future workforce plans and estimates, benchmarking, succession planning, reviewing and development policies, line manager involvement and support, incentives and measuring successes, regular validation and evaluation supporting continuous improvement.

Recommendations for assessment

Learners may approach the assessment in a number of ways. All assessment criteria must be covered. To enable this to be achieved effectively the unit has been written in the sequence in which skills and talent is identified and delivered. The following opportunities are recommendations for guidance purposes only.

1. The learner may be asked to write an account or assignment on the principles of developing a skilled and talented workforce.
2. The learner should draw upon their own experience either from their current work role, paid or voluntary.
3. If not in employment, learners can draw upon organisations with which they are familiar e.g. a past employer or as part of a case study/scenario.
4. Learners may present work based evidence accompanied by reports or reflective accounts to meet each of the assessment criteria.

Further guidance

It is not a requirement for the learner to cover all aspects of the indicative content when completing the assessment. The learner is encouraged to select and present well chosen information and examples to evidence they sufficiently understand the assessment criteria.

Managing Conflict

Ofqual unit number: L/616/3215
RQF level: 5
Guided learning hours: 17
Total unit time: 41

Aims of unit: Managing conflict takes resilience. It requires the ability to evaluate complex information, make evidence based judgements and act professionally within the bounds of organisational and legal frameworks. This unit is designed to equip the learner with strategies to manage conflict with confidence, find creative solutions and make difficult decisions.

Keywords: Types, causes, impact, evidence based judgement, disagreement, resolution

Learning outcome 1
Understand the types, causes, stages and impact of conflict within organisations

Assessment criteria:
1.1 Analyse types and causes of conflict within organisations
1.2 Analyse the stages of conflict
1.3 Assess the impact of conflict on organisational performance

Indicative content:
1.1 Types may include but are not limited to personal or relational conflict, instrumental conflict, and conflicts of interests, conflicts relating to alleged discrimination, individual or team performance, leadership, disagreements between organisations, employees, volunteers, other stakeholders, pressure groups, trade unions and lobbying organisations, whistle blowing.

Causes may include but are not limited to poor communication, differences in views, culture, values, ethics and beliefs on an individual and organisational level, competency issues, personal issues (tiredness, ill-health, presenteeism, absenteeism, carer responsibilities) competition (internal and external), resource allocation, flexible working, disparities between worker’s rights and benefits, organisational decisions and decision making processes, the introduction, interpretation and application of policies and procedures and legal and regulatory frameworks, management of change.

1.2 Stages of conflict may include but are not limited to no conflict, latent conflict, emergence, escalation, stalemate, de-escalation, settlement/resolution, peace building and reconciliation.

1.3 Impact may include but is not limited to positive outcomes (e.g. business growth/performance, development of individuals and teams, new ideas and innovation, process improvement, improved brand and image, reduction of poor practice, increased engagement, compliance with organisational, regulatory and legal requirements) and negative outcomes (e.g. high staff turnover, damage to image, brand, reputation, failure to meeting targets, reduced quality, decreased staff and customer satisfaction, poor customer experience, litigation and financial cost).

Learning outcome 2
Understand how to investigate conflict situations in the workplace
Assessment criteria

2.1 Discuss processes for investigating conflict situations in the workplace

Indicative content

2.1 Processes may include but are not limited to selecting the process/methodology (formal and informal), data and information gathering, evaluation and reporting within scope of role and in line with organisational and legal frameworks (such as confidentiality, data protection, disclosure, equality and diversity, health and safety, bullying and harassment, whistle blowing).

Conflict situations may include but are not limited to minor conflicts between individuals, groups and teams versus major conflict with organisational leadership, direction and strategy and external stakeholders.

---

Learning outcome 3

Understand approaches, techniques, knowledge, skills and behaviours for managing conflict

Assessment criteria

3.1 Analyse the knowledge, skills and behaviours required to manage conflict effectively

3.2 Evaluate the use of approaches and techniques to resolve conflict

Indicative content

3.1 Knowledge may include but is not limited to the legal and organisational frameworks, operating within limits of authority and knowing when to escalate to management, other departments and stakeholders (e.g. police, Health and Safety Executive and other regulatory bodies).

Skills and behaviours may include but are not limited to self-confidence, impartiality, ability to break the cycle of conflict, Emotional Intelligence (Goleman, 1995) to pre-empt, prevent, or minimise conflict, flexibility to change a course of action, honesty, facilitation skills, encourage collaboration, active listening, proactivity, relationship building, ability to compromise, negotiation, empathy, defuse blame, create win-win situations, deliver bad news.

3.2 Techniques may include but are not limited to forcing an outcome, win-win/collaborating, compromising/smoothing, withdrawing/avoiding, mitigating, Transactional Analysis (Eric Berne, c.1950), negotiating, conciliation and arbitration (ACAS, 2017), Conflict Mode Instrument (Thomas-Kilmann, 1974).

Recommendations for assessment

Learners may approach the assessment in a number of ways. All assessment criteria must be met. The following opportunities are recommendations for guidance purposes only.

1. The learner may be asked to write an account or assignment on the principles of managing conflict in the workplace.
2. The learner may be asked to respond to a scenario based on how they would manage conflict.
3. Learners may write a report based on the principles of managing conflict.
4. The learner may draw upon their own experience of managing conflict within their own organisation. They may present work based evidence accompanied by reports/reflective accounts to meet each success criteria.

Further guidance

It is not a requirement for the learner to cover all aspects of the indicative content when completing the assessment. The learner is encouraged to select and present well chosen information and examples to evidence they sufficiently understand the assessment criteria.

This unit is a barred combination with CMI unit 502.

Aims of unit
Recruiting and selecting staff is a major challenge in a competitive market. Organisations are increasingly looking for innovative approaches to recruit individuals from the broadest talent pool. This unit has been designed to equip learners with an understanding of the factors which impact on recruitment. They will know how to develop plans and strategies for selecting staff, and identify approaches for retaining the best of the best.

Key words
Legislation, operational requirements, labour markets, business case, talent, diverse, on boarding, induction, retention

Learning outcome 1

Understand the factors that impact on recruitment and selection

Assessment criteria

1.1 Examine the impact of regulatory and legislative frameworks on an organisation’s approach to recruitment and selection

1.2 Evaluate organisational factors which impact on recruitment and selection

1.3 Analyse the impact of labour markets on recruitment and selection

Indicative content

1.1 Regulatory and legislative may include but are not limited to the Equality Act 2010 (subsequent changes, deletions and replacements), General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) 2018, Health and Safety Act 1974 and industry specific regulation, Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups Act 2016, The National Minimum Wage Regulations 2016, Working Time Directive 1998, Working Together to Safeguard Children 2013, working hours, visas, advertising standards (e.g. The UK Code of Broadcast Advertising Code), qualifications, safeguarding (DBS and PVG), national initiatives (e.g. apprenticeships, traineeships, internships and returnships).

1.2 Organisational factors may include but not limited to budgets, wage and recruitment freezes, organisational growth, financial performance/forecasting, market research, business continuity, changing customer/stakeholder needs, equality targets, contract types (zero hours, full time, part time, permanent, short term contracting, use of contractors, sole traders, consultants and agencies).

1.3 Labour markets may include but are not limited to local, regional, national and global, sector specific, macro, environmental, skills shortages, tight or lose labour markets, visas and permits.

Learning outcome 2

Know how to plan for recruitment and selection

Assessment criteria
2.1 Examine the types and purpose of information required to develop a business case for recruitment

2.2 Analyse good practice in creating content for job descriptions and person specifications to meet business needs

Indicative content

2.1 Information may include but not limited to analysis of the existing position, alignment to strategic objectives, current staffing resource model, types of staff (e.g. age, gender, anticipated retirement dates, staff turnover, contract type), volume of work v capacity/ability to achieve targets, Cost Benefit Analysis (CBA), skills gaps, external factors that will affect the organisation including growth, globalisation and recession.

2.2 Content may include but not limited to roles and responsibilities, knowledge skills and behaviours, links to competency or other frameworks, flexible, innovative and inclusive, suitability for digital platforms and written formats.

Learning outcome 3

Understand approaches to the recruitment and selection of a diverse and talented workforce

Assessment criteria

3.1 Evaluate methods for generating high quality applications from prospective employees

3.2 Analyse the rationale for using recruitment and selection methods in different contexts

3.3 Evaluate approaches for selecting the successful applicant

Indicative content

3.1 Methods may include but are not limited to social media networks, internal to the organisation, newspapers and journals, local radio, television, networks, agencies, head hunters, recommendation/referrals, recruitment fairs, people leaving the services, job centres.

3.2 Methods may include but are not limited to 1 to 1 interviews, telephone interviews, group interviews, use of digital interviewing and screening, assessment centres, testing (skills and psychometric)

Contexts may include but are not limited to role and level of appointment in an organisation, geographical, sector norms, volume of vacancies and applicants, specialism, globalisation, internal applicants, school leavers, graduates and apprenticeships, type of contract including full time, annualised hours, zero hours and use of agencies.

3.3 Different approaches may include but are not limited to rating, competency assessment, test scores, comparison of notes.

Learning outcome 4

Understand strategies for retaining talent

Assessment criteria

4.1 Analyse good practice for onboarding and inducting new staff

4.2 Evaluate methods for improving employee retention

4.3 Examine the benefits of employee retention for individuals, teams and organisation

Indicative content

4.1 Onboarding and inducting may include but is not limited to pre-employment checks and contact, introduction to company values, brand, culture, vision/mission, schedule activities, identify key contacts, set expectations, induction, develop training plans, buddying and mentoring, personal development planning, content and timing, review and feedback.
4.2 Methods may include but are not limited to learning and development, engagement, autonomy, involvement, job variety and challenge, personal growth, intrinsic and extrinsic reward, growth, work life balance, flexible working, communications, branding, fewer defects, greater customer satisfaction, dealing with the needs of different generations.

4.3 Benefits may include but are not limited to reduction in costs/cost savings, productivity, business continuity, improved customer service, improved performance, relationships, loyalty, recommendation, opportunity cost, improved reputation/branding/culture, vision/mission, engagement and skills retention.

Recommendations for assessment

Learners may approach the assessment in a number of ways. All assessment criteria must be covered. To enable this to be achieved effectively the unit has been written in the sequence in which recruitment, selection and retention are carried out. The following opportunities are recommendations for guidance purposes only.

1. The learner may be asked to write an account or assignment on the principles of recruiting, selecting and retaining talent in the workplace.
2. The learner should draw upon their own experience either from their current work role, paid or voluntary. Recruitment, selection and retention are not constrained by being in a particular role and can include planning for a future role.
3. If not in employment, learners can draw upon organisations with which they are familiar e.g. a past employer or as part of a case study or scenario.
4. Learners may present work based evidence accompanied by reports or reflective accounts to meet each of the assessment criteria.

Further guidance

It is not a requirement for the learner to cover all aspects of the indicative content when completing the assessment. The learner is encouraged to select and present well chosen information and examples to evidence they sufficiently understand the assessment criteria.

3.1 Specify the rationale for initiating change within an organisation

3.2 Develop a plan for change within an organisation

3.3 Examine tools for implementing and monitoring change

3.4 Recommend approaches to overcome risks and barriers to change

3.5 Develop strategies for communicating planned change to stakeholders

3.6 Assess practical methods to support individuals throughout the change management process

3.7 Analyse methods for monitoring and measuring the impact of planned change

3.8 Discuss approaches to embed and sustain planned change in an organisation

Indicative content

3.1 Rationale may include but is not limited to benefits, business case, impact, consequences/risks.

3.2 Plan for change may include but is not limited to objectives, actions, stages, milestones, resources, timescales, deadlines, responsibilities, measures (Lewin, c1940s, Force Field Analysis; Hiatt, 2003, ADKAR).

3.3 Tools may include but are not limited to roadmaps, flowcharts, cultural mapping, process maps, readiness assessments, Gantt charts, communication and project plans, IT applications.

3.4 Risks and barriers may include but are not limited to organisational (splinter groups, logistical barrier e.g. remote working, shift work, rising costs, changing priorities, delay tactics); personal (Kubler Ross, 1960) (hostility, sense of loss, resistance to change, depression, refusal to engage).

3.5 Communicating refers to chairing meetings and presenting using a range of media and may include but is not limited to internal and external communication, consultation, huddles, meetings and briefings, webinars, podcasts, conference calls, blog posts, presentations, letters and newsletters, articles, case studies.

3.6 Practical methods to support refers to supporting people through coaching and mentoring and may include learning and development, supervision, one-to-one meetings, team meetings, workshops, setting an example, use of specialist advice and support.

3.7 Methods may include but are not limited to periodic reporting, surveys and questionnaires, interviews, benchmarking activities, mystery shopper, scorecards, data and metrics, audits, targets, workshops, observation, conversations.

3.8 Approaches may include but are not limited to overcoming barriers, meeting objectives, achieving planned benefits, periodic monitoring, key performance indicators (KPIs), continuous professional development (CPD) requirements.

Creating and Delivering Operational Plans

Ofqual unit number
T/616/3225

RQF level

Guided learning hours
22

Total unit time
52

Aims of unit
The ability to translate organisational objectives into operational plans is an essential management skill. The unit opens with the importance of understanding the strategic direction of the organisation and how to contribute to the strategic planning process. It then focuses on the knowledge and skills required to create and deliver operational plans. This includes the need to set key performance indicators, monitor quality and outcomes against the plan, and know how to effectively report on findings.

Keywords
Strategic objectives, operational planning, key performance indicators, continuous improvement, setting targets, contingency planning, deliver operational plan, time management, manage resources, problem solving, decision making, monitoring and measuring outcomes.

Indicative content

2.1 Legal and Organisational factors on an operational plan
2.2 Ethical requirements that influence an operational plan
2.3 Creating an operational plan in line with organisational objectives

Organisational may include but is not limited to performance standards, customer service charters, policies and procedures for human resources, health and safety, safety and security, equality and diversity, communication and data protection, procurement, risk assessment, LEAN production, quality standards.

2.2 Ethical may include but is not limited to code of conduct, sustainability, corporate social responsibility, organisational values and culture, equality and diversity.

2.3 Operational plan refers to operational business planning techniques, create plans in line with organisational objectives, setting key performance indicators (KPIs) and SMART targets, (Ten-step Target Setting Process, Bourne and Franco-Santos, 2010), ability to demonstrate commercial awareness and identify and shape new opportunities, plan, organise and manage resources, management systems, processes and contingency planning, management of multiple tasks, monitoring performing against plans and development of sales and marketing plans.

The plan may be in the form of a short, medium, long term or interval plan and may include but is not limited to aims, relationship to organisational objectives, analysis of data, assessment of current capability, gap analysis, assessing supply and resources (including partner/supplier arrangements), risk management, budget allocation, production methods, service delivery, communications plan, implementation and review, data and performance measures, conclusions and recommendations.

Learning outcome 3

Know how to manage and lead the delivery of an operational plan

Assessment criteria

3.1 Assess methods of managing and leading the delivery of an operational plan

3.2 Examine techniques for problem solving and decision making

Indicative content

3.1 Methods refer to effective delegation and enabling delivery through others, using specialist advice and support to deliver against plans, managing resources (e.g. budget allocation, availability and quality of supplies, supply chain management, reliability of equipment, contingency arrangements), monitoring performance against plans, use of time management and prioritisation techniques and tools and may include but are not limited to communication of plan, briefings, learning and development (including development for licence to practice), coaching mentoring and motivation of staff, performance management, management of virtual, multiple and remote teams.

3.2 Techniques refer to use of critical analysis and evaluation to support decision making and use of effective problem solving techniques and may include but are not limited to Root Cause Analysis (RCA), Fishbone Diagram (Ishikawa, c.1968), brainstorming, mind mapping, action planning, Six Thinking Hats (De Bono, 1986), Ladder of Inference (Senge, 2006), Rational Decision-Making (Kepner-Tregoe, 1965).

Learning outcome 4

Know how to monitor and measure the outcome of operational planning

Assessment criteria

4.1 Evaluate methods to monitor progress and measure the outcomes of operational plans

Indicative content

4.1 Methods refer to key performance indicators (KPIs), setting targets and monitoring performance against plans, continuous improvement cycle (including quality audits and quality control), input into strategic planning, production of reports, produce reports and provide management information based on the collation, analysis and interpretation of data (including metrics and analytics) and may include but are not limited to quantitative (e.g. profitability, contribution to overheads, securing future business/contracts, repeat business) and qualitative (e.g. reputation, retention and loyalty, customer and employee feedback, satisfaction levels, ability to attract new/retain customers/staff, staff performance, achievement of awards and accolades, growth and innovation).

Recommendations for assessment

Learners may approach the assessment in a number of ways. All assessment criteria must be met. The following opportunities are recommendations for guidance purposes only.

1. The learner may be asked to write an account or assignment on the principles of managing and delivering operational plans.
2. The learner may be asked to respond to a scenario or case study based on how they would create and deliver operational plans.
3. Learners may write a report based on the principles of creating and delivering operational plans.
4. The learner may draw upon their own experience of creating and delivering operational plans within their own organisation.
5. They may present work based evidence accompanied by reports/reflective accounts to meet each assessment criteria.
6. To meet the requirements of AC 2.3 (Create an operational plan in line with organisational objectives) the learner is required to create a plan for a minimum of one work area for a period of 3 months.

Further guidance

It is not a requirement for the learner to cover all aspects of the indicative content when completing the assessment. The learner is encouraged to select and present well chosen information and examples to evidence they sufficiently understand the assessment criteria.

CMI 516  Planning, Procuring and Managing Resources

Ofqual unit number  J/616/3225
RQF level  5
Guided learning hours  24
Total unit time  55

Aims of unit  Inadequate resourcing can impact on the ability to achieve objectives; whilst being over resourced has financial implications. This unit has been designed to enable managers to understand and respond to the challenge of managing and monitoring resources. Learners will understand the importance of effective and efficient resource use, identify and plan resource requirements and know how to procure resources in line with regulatory requirements.

Keywords  Procurement, planning, resource management, category management, resources, protocols, costs, processes, options, techniques, organisational planning, time/quality/cost, supply, suppliers

| Learning outcome 1 |
| Understand the importance of effective and efficient resource use in organisations |
| Assessment criteria |
| 1.1 Analyse the importance of effective and efficient resource use in organisations |
| 1.2 Examine processes for effective and efficient resource use in organisations |
| Indicative content |
| 1.1 Resource use may include but is not limited to types of resources (human, goods, facilities, services, time, financial, assets, infrastructure. |
| 1.2 Processes may include but are not limited to following organisational procedures and protocols, legal and ethical requirements, impact of resource use on environment or health and safety procedures on resource use, safe maintenance of resources, security of resources, concepts of budget holders, budget managers and authorised signatories, business continuity, risk management, authority and responsibility, accountability, value for money, Responsibility, Authority, Expertise, Work (RAEW)/ Responsible, Accountable, Consulted, Informed (RACI) (Crane, c. 1970’s). |

| Learning outcome 2 |
| Know how to plan resources to meet organisational objectives |
| Assessment criteria |
| 2.1 Assess factors which impact on resource planning to meet organisational objectives |
| 2.2 Examine approaches for determining a change to resourcing |
| 2.3 Discuss sources of data and information used to plan resource requirements |
| 2.4 Evaluate options for the supply of resources to meet organisational objectives |
| Indicative content |
2.1 Factors may include but are not limited to business planning, budgeting, forecasting, stock control, managing seasonal fluctuations, planning for random influences (such as a strike or sudden crisis), using historical trends to predict and forecast resource requirements, drawing up functional and technical specifications, considerations of time/quality/cost, category management.

2.2 Approaches may include but are not limited to GAP Analysis, capability and resource analysis (current and future).

2.3 Sources may include but are not limited to internal and external data and information.

2.4 Options may include but are not limited to make or buy decisions, capacity planning, forecasting, cost benefit analysis (CBA), return on investment (ROI), capital investment appraisals (payback, net present value), sensitive analysis, bulk buying.

---

Learning outcome 3

Know how to procure resources

Assessment criteria

3.1 Analyse principles which underpin effective procurement

3.2 Analyse the stages of a procurement process

3.3 Develop criteria for resource specifications

3.4 Analyse methods for selecting suppliers

Indicative content

3.1 Principles refers to company policies and procedures, World Trade Organisation (WTO) rules, European Journal (EJ) rules, Institute of Civil Engineers (ICE) and Chartered Institute of Purchasing Supply (CIPS), conditions of contract rules.

3.2 Stages may include but are not limited to purchase order, pre-qualification, tendering, bid valuation (single/two stage bid evaluation and open and closed bids), requirements management, feasibility studies, contract negotiation, contract award.

3.3 Criteria may include but are not limited to scenario based requirements, functional requirements, outcomes/performance based requirements.

3.4 Methods include but are not limited to formal e.g. tenders and trade associations and informal e.g. recommendations and referrals, comparing alternative products and services, pilots and trials, quality testing, references and case or trade studies, benchmarking.

Learning outcome 4

Know how to monitor resource use in organisations

Assessment criteria

4.1 Analyse strategies used to predict and manage disruption in resource supply

4.2 Analyse methods to record, monitor and report on resource use

4.3 Recommend approaches to improve resource use in organisations

Indicative content

4.1 Strategies may include but are not limited to scenario planning, capacity planning, Theory of Constraints (TOC), risk management, bulk buying, disaster/contingency planning, environmental scanning/intelligence.

4.2 Methods may include but are not limited to budget monitoring (planned vs actual spend), Critical Success Factors (CSFs), Critical to Quality (CTQ), Cost of Poor Quality (CoPQ), scorecards, continuity of supply, key performance indicators (KPIs), stakeholder feedback, internal and external audits, quality standards, error rates, output, benchmarks, service level agreements (SLAs).
4.3 Approaches may include but are not limited to business case, recommendations, business case, use of data and information to inform decision making, business process improvement, renegotiating contracts, staff training, relationship building, shared services, compliance, formulate/improve policies and procedures.

Aims of unit
Business outcomes are optimised when risks are identified and managed effectively. This unit has been designed to equip learners with an understanding of the scope and purpose of business risk management. This includes an evaluation of the types of business risks, the governance and approaches for managing these effectively, and how risk management can be implemented successfully within organisations.

Keywords
Business risk, risk governance, assessing, ranking, mitigating risk, risk management, implementation, communication.

---

Learning outcome 1

Understand the scope of business risk management

Assessment criteria

1.1 Evaluate business risks in relation to the organisation, its customers and suppliers

1.2 Analyse the governance of risk within organisations

1.3 Examine categories of risk used within different organisational settings

1.4 Analyse organisational methods for managing and quantifying risk

Indicative content

1.1 Business risk includes but is not limited to internal process failures, supplier failures, customer failures, events e.g. accidents, acts of God, terrorism, scenario based risk (relevant to organisation/sector impact of changes i.e. political/economic), risks and opportunities (business or commercial).

1.2 Governance includes but is not limited to ISO31000 management boards, committees, leadership and management systems, lines of authority and accountability, trustees, special interest groups, human resource management policies and procedures, staff development, risk reward culture, financial considerations, operational management processes and procedures for collection of data and information, risk and issues logs, risk management policies and procedures, technical considerations e.g. ICT systems, upgrades and applications, infrastructure and security (including cyber security).

1.3 Categories may include but are not limited to market risk, operational risk, contractual, legal and regulatory risk, financial risk (including credit risk, liquidity risk), structural risk, skills gaps, technical risk, people, cultural and social risk, brand image, supplier and buyer risk, random events.

1.4 Methods may include but are not limited to RAID (risks, assumptions, issues, dependencies) logs (PRICE2, c 2000), probability of occurrence and potential consequences e.g. likelihood and consequences risk matrices, financial management of risk, including future free cash flow, knowledge management approaches including competencies to manage business activities, competitor and environmental analysis, tasks and events, use of guidelines such as ISO 31000 (risk framework, principles and processes)

---

Learning outcome 2

Understand the process for managing business risk
Assessment criteria

2.1 Analyse the processes for identifying, assessing and ranking business risk

2.2 Analyse the process for managing a business risk

2.3 Examine approaches for mitigating a business risk

2.4 Analyse methods for implementing business risk management

2.5 Assess methods for reporting identified risks to stakeholders

Indicative content

2.1 Identifying risk may include but is not limited to self-assessment, risk profiling, risk management meetings, guided workshops, benchmarking, industry and sector knowledge.

Assessing may include but is not limited to reviewing the effectiveness of controls, procedures and governance, risk reporting and accountability, effectiveness of audit process, lines of authority and responsibility.

Ranking may include but is not limited to benchmarking, score card methods, industry good practice, simple prioritisation methods, formal methods (e.g. Delphi and normal group techniques (NGT)).

2.2 Managing may include but is not limited to monitoring and managing costs in respects of expected and unexpected loss, net social cost benefit, employing risk mitigation techniques, improving ICT systems and procedures, up-skilling staff, avoid high risks, monitoring risk using effective risk reporting, senior management involvement, stress testing, event analysis.

2.3 Mitigating may include but is not limited to transferring risk, use of insurance policies, contingency planning, disaster planning, alternative risk transfer, risk avoidance, minimisation, prevention and prediction of risk.

2.4 Methods may include but are not limited to top down senior management influence, policy setting, implementation at operational/departmental/functional levels, bottom up processes, formal roles of governance (e.g. steering groups, committees, independent external auditors), risk management as a separate business function, or embedded within departments, RAID (risks, assumptions, issues, dependencies) logs PRINCE2, c 2000).

2.5 Reporting may include but is not limited to issues, assumptions, risks, metrics (e.g. KPI's).

Stakeholders may include but are not limited to internal: team members, line managers, senior managers, board members; external: potential employees, customers, suppliers, pressure groups, government agencies and regulatory organisations, general public; connected: shareholders, suppliers, partners, contractors.

Recommendations for assessment

Learners may approach the assessment in a number of ways. All assessment criteria must be covered. To enable this to be achieved effectively the unit has been written in the sequence in which risk management is carried out. The following opportunities are recommendations for guidance purposes only.

1. The learner may be asked to write an account or assignment on the principles of managing risk in organisations.
2. The learner may be asked to respond to a scenario based on the management of business risk.
3. Learners may write a report based on the principles of business risk management.
4. The learner may draw upon their own experience of managing risk within their own organisation.
5. They may present work based evidence accompanied by reports/reflective accounts to meet each success criteria.
6. The learner may create a guide to managing risk in the organisation.

Further guidance

It is not a requirement for the learner to cover all aspects of the indicative content when completing the assessment. The learner is encouraged to select and present well chosen information and examples to evidence they sufficiently understand the assessment criteria.

Managing Quality and Continuous Improvement

Ofqual unit number D/616/3235
RQF level 5
Guided learning hours 22
Total unit time 56

Aims of unit
Quality may be defined as excellence, capacity, grade, worth or meeting customer expectations. Whilst the definition for quality can easily be found in a dictionary it is much harder to develop and maintain. This unit looks at the challenge of developing quality within organisations. It focuses on embedding continuous improvement into working practices. On successful achievement of this unit learners will understand the scope and purpose of quality management, approaches, tools and techniques for managing quality and how to judge its success.

Keywords
Quality management, stakeholders, structures, continuous improvement, purpose, procedures

Learning outcome 1
Understand the scope and purpose of quality management within organisations

Assessment criteria
1.1 Evaluate the scope and purpose of quality management within organisations
1.2 Analyse organisational structures for managing quality
1.3 Examine the influence of stakeholders in quality management
1.4 Analyse the impact of quality management systems on an organisation’s activities

Indicative content
1.1 Scope and purpose may include but are not limited to meeting and managing and customer expectations, contribute to compliance, efficiency, effectiveness, business performance.

1.3 Influence may include but is not limited to different perspectives, motivations, priorities, working relationships, communication methods, power, authority.
Stakeholders may include but are not limited to individuals, business functions, departments, partners, suppliers, customers (internal and external).
1.4 Quality management systems may include but are not limited to policies, procedures, methods, work instructions and standards (mandatory, optional) local, industry (sector specific), international (e.g. International Organisational for Standardisation, ISO).

Learning outcome 2
Understand approaches for managing quality

Assessment criteria
2.1 Evaluate approaches for managing and maintaining quality

2.2 Evaluate the tools and techniques used in quality management within an organisational setting

Indicative content

2.1 Approaches may include but are not limited to Six Sigma (Motorola, 1986), Statistical Process Control (SPC), LEAN methods, Total Quality Management (TQM) a shared organisation wide philosophy and ethos.

2.2 Tools and techniques may include but are not limited to Diagnostic (or sense making) techniques (e.g. influence diagrams, Rational Decision Making (Kepner and Tregoe, 1965), Soft Systems Methodology (SSM), Appreciative Enquiry (Cooperrider and Srivastva, 1980s), Delphi techniques, mind mapping and brainstorming);

Analytical techniques (e.g. Failure Mode and Criticality Analysis (FMECA), SWOT analysis, Six Thinking Hats (De Bono, 1986), Root Cause Analysis (5 Whys), Fishbone Analysis (Ishikawa, 1968), Design of Experiments (DoE), The Seven Wastes (7 Mudas), Pareto Principles (Juran, date), Quality Function Deployment (QFD), Plan, Do, Check, Act PDCA (Deming, c.1950s), Kano Model (Kano, 1980), Six Sigma: Voice of the Customer (date); Presentation techniques (e.g. histograms, pie charts and bar charts, variance analysis, data analysis and visualisation, Statistical Process Control (SPC), Cost of Poor Quality (CoPQ); Manufacturing techniques (e.g. fit, finish, tolerances, parts and assemblies, tool room metrology, mistake proofing; value engineering, Overall Equipment Effectiveness (OEE), Design for Manufacturing and Assembly Techniques (DFMA), visual management, KANBAN boards.

Learning outcome 3

Understand the application of continuous improvement within organisations

Assessment criteria

3.1 Justify the use of short and long term strategies for continuous improvement

3.2 Evaluate the process for embedding continuous improvement within an organisational setting

Indicative content

3.1 Short term may include but are not limited to dramatic and fast, big steps, breakthrough, intermittent, involves a select few, risks can be high, technological change can be to innovative.

Long term may include but are not limited to small incremental steps, engages workforce, risk minimisation, impact on people, processes and culture.

3.2 Process may include but is not limited to Identify opportunities for short and long term improvements (e.g. build on success, respond to a problem, support customer need), identify long term goals and objectives, manage stakeholders involvement to get a perspective on priorities and how to improve customer growth and focus, identify and manage risk, set measurable objectives and key performance indicators/SMART objectives, develop improvement implementation plan and strategy (e.g. prototyping, parallel operations, big bang or pilot project), manage, monitor and evaluate outcomes of the improvement, repeat the improvement cycle.

Learning outcome 4

Know how to judge the success of quality management

Assessment criteria

4.1 Discuss how the effectiveness of quality management within an organisational context can be assessed

4.2 Evaluate the use and purpose of a scorecard method to judge the success of quality management

Indicative content
4.1 Assessed may include but are not limited to results and metrics, standards of quality, business impact, levels of waste and costs, suitability and application of policies, procedures and processes.

4.2 Scorecard methods may include but is not limited to Investors in People (IIP), Balanced Scorecard (Kaplan and Norton, 1992), European Foundation for Quality Management (EFQM), Baldridge Award.

Recommendations for assessment

Learners may approach the assessment in a number of ways. All assessment criteria must be met. The following opportunities are recommendations for guidance purposes only. To enable this the unit has been written in the sequence in which quality and continuous improvement is carried out. The following opportunities are recommendations for guidance purposes only.

1. The learner may be asked to write an account or assignment on managing quality and continuous improvement.
2. The learner may be asked to respond to a scenario based on how they would manage quality and continuous improvement within an organisation.
3. Learners may write a report based on the principles of managing quality and continuous improvement within an organisation.
4. The learner may draw upon their own experience of managing quality and continuous improvement within their own organisation.
5. They may present work based evidence accompanied by reports/reflective accounts to meet each success criteria.
6. Learners may produce a guide on managing quality and continuous improvement in the organisation.

Further guidance

It is not a requirement for the learner to cover all aspects of the indicative content when completing the assessment. The learner is encouraged to select and present well chosen information and examples to evidence they sufficiently understand the assessment criteria.

Managing Finance

Ofqual unit number  H/616/3236
RQF level  5
Guided learning hours  22
Total unit time  56

Aims of unit  Financial management skills are essential for all managers regardless of whether there is a dedicated finance team within an organisation. Financial acumen enhances decision making skills, which in turn supports management of projects, tasks and functional areas. This unit has been designed to enable learners to understand how financial systems within organisations operate. Learners will evaluate the sources of finance for organisations, and understand the principles for setting and managing budgets in line with regulatory and organisational guidelines. This unit has been designed to enhance the learner’s confidence and credibility in financial management, which will translate into improved management skills.

Keywords  Budgets, decision making, return on investment, management accounting, financial accounting, economic sustainability, marginal and standard costing, expenditures, revenue, capital, balance sheet, profit and loss statements, assets, capital markets, retained earnings, bank borrowing, government schemes, venture capital, trade credit, factoring, leasing, business angels.

1.3 Management accounting may include but is not limited to budgets, cash flow, revenue, capital expenditures, marginal and standard costing, break even analysis, activity based costing, budgetary control and variance analysis.

Financial accounting may include but is not limited to balance sheets, profit and loss accounts.
1.4 Organisational frameworks may include but are not limited to governance, protocols, limits of authority, reporting lines, ownership, whistle blowing, policies and procedures, financial misconduct, procurement.

Regulatory frameworks may include but are not limited to Companies Act 2006, Partnership Act 1890.

1.5 Challenges may include but are not limited to organisational size and strategic intent, attitude to risk and innovation, past performance, administrative capability.

Learning outcome 2

Know how to set and manage budgets

Assessment criteria

2.1 Differentiate between budget setting and financial forecasting
2.2 Evaluate budget setting approaches used by organisations
2.3 Formulate and justify a budget for an area of management responsibility
2.4 Analyse the factors that impact on budget management
2.5 Specify corrective actions to be taken in response to budgetary variance
2.6 Discuss reporting procedures for authorising corrective actions to a budget

Indicative content

2.1 Budget setting and financial forecasting refer to differences between the two financial planning techniques.
2.2 Approaches may include but are not limited to zero based, incremental, fixed and flexible.
2.3 Budget may include but is not limited to annual, quarterly and monthly forecast and budget amounts, financial business case.
2.4 Factors may include but are not limited to variances and factors contributing to under and over performance, conflicts, funding reductions, market conditions, increased costs.
2.5 Corrective actions may include but are not limited to reduce costs, reduce resource and materials usage.
2.6 Reporting procedures may include but are not limited to financial reporting procedures, tolerances, contingency, devolved budgeting, virement.

Recommendations for assessment

Learners may approach the assessment in a number of ways. All assessment criteria must be met. The following opportunities are recommendations for guidance purposes only.

Using Data and Information for Decision Making

Ofqual unit number
D/616/8824

RQF level

Guided learning hours
26

Total unit time
50

Aims of unit
The ability to analyse and manage data and information can lead to increased competitiveness, innovation, productivity and customer satisfaction. However, with data and information volumes increasing at unprecedented levels, the ability to interpret, use, and harness ‘big data’ can become an organisational challenge. The aim of this unit is to equip learners with an understanding of the purpose and practices of interpreting, managing and presenting business data and information to inform decision making.

Keywords
Data, information, types, sources, criteria, organisational frameworks, legal frameworks, General Data Protection Regulation, Freedom of Information Act, risk assessment, Management Information Systems, data analytics, records management, statistical analysis, cost benefit analysis, options appraisal, grid analysis, Decision Model, Rational Decision Making, OODA Loops, communications channels, communications model.

Learning outcome 1
Understand the use of data and information in decision making

Assessment criteria

1.1 Analyse the use of data and information in decision making
1.2 Examine types of data and information used in decision making
1.3 Analyse the impact of organisational and legal frameworks on the use of data and information in decision making
1.4 Discuss the impact of stakeholder needs on the collection, analysis and interpretation of data and information for decision making

Indicative content

1. Purpose may include but is not limited to knowledge sharing and collaboration, knowledge as a business asset, supporting business activities, business planning, business opportunities and organisational decision making.

Data and information may include but is not limited to Data, Information, Knowledge, Wisdom (DIKW) model (Ackoff, 1989), tacit and explicit knowledge (Socialisation, Externalisation, Combination, Internalisation (SECI) Model (Nonaka and Takeuchi, 1996), knowledge and know how (Collison and Parcell, 2004).

1.2 Types may include but are not limited to tacit, explicit, classifications (e.g. confidential, restricted, top secret), internal and external, primary and secondary, qualitative, quantitative, structured and unstructured.

1.3 Organisational frameworks may include but is not limited to communication and knowledge sharing policies, procedures and protocols, safety, security, risk, reporting and audit, approval levels for access to data and information.

1.4 Needs may include but are not limited to compliance, objectives, feedback, gap fill.
Learning outcome 2

Be able to interpret data and information to support decision making

Assessment criteria

2.1 Discuss criteria used for selection of data and information
2.2 Evaluate the use of tools and techniques for analysing and interpreting data and information to support decision making

Indicative content

2.1 Criteria refers to accuracy, validity, reliability, timeliness, currency, relevance, completeness, authenticity, use of data analytics and statistical analysis methods.
2.2 Tools and techniques may include but are not limited to strategic, tactical and operational, Cost Benefit Analysis (CBA), options appraisal, grid analysis, Decision Model (Vroom Yetton, 1973), Rational Decision Making (Kepner Tregoe, 1965), OODA Loops (c. 2000), data mining, Structured Query Language (SQL), excel spreadsheets, charts and graphs.

Learning outcome 3

Know how to present data and information used for decision making

Assessment criteria

3.1 Evaluate methods of presenting data and information used for decision making

Indicative content

3.1 Methods may include but are not limited to formal, informal, verbal, non-verbal, electronic, written, visual, face to face, briefings, meetings, data visualisation, dashboards, presentations, reports, charts, diagrams, infographics.

Recommendations for assessment

Learners may approach the assessment in a number of ways. All assessment criteria must be met. The following opportunities are recommendations for guidance purposes only.

1. The learner may be asked to respond to a scenario based on how they would manage and share data and information.
2. Learners may write a based on the principles of managing and sharing data and information. report
3. The learner may draw upon their own experience of managing and sharing data and information.
4. The learner may present work based evidence accompanied by reports/reflective accounts to meet each assessment criteria.
5. Learners may wish to create a guide on how to manage business data and information within an organisation.

Aims of unit
Research into approaches to management and leadership can lead to dynamic results. Innovation, product development, performance improvement, change, customer service excellence, strategy and problem solving are just some of the results. Without research business can stagnate. The aim of the unit is for the learner to conduct management research which will have an impact on organisational practice. It is expected that learners will plan and manage a genuine project in the workplace or an academic enquiry relevant to an identified business need or challenge.

Keywords
Project proposal, reason for research, scope, aims and objectives, research methodologies, stakeholders, knowledge, conduct research, analyse, interpret and evaluate findings, option or alternative, conclusions, recommendations, impact.

Assessment criteria

1.1 Develop the aim, objectives and scope of a proposed management project
1.2 Specify a research approach for the proposed management project
1.3 Specify the research methods to be used to collect data and information
1.4 Analyse the role of stakeholders involved in the management project
1.5 Examine the factors that need to be considered when developing a plan for the management project

Indicative content

b.2 Aim, objectives and scope may include but are not limited to use of specific, measurable, achievable, realistic, timebound (SMART) objectives, overall aim, rationale, in/out of scope, outline of research proposal/topic, research question, hypothesis, deliverables (tangible and intangible).

Management project refers to a genuine project in the workplace or an academic enquiry in response to a business need/challenge. It may include but is not limited to innovation, product development, problem solving, change, performance improvement, market entry, strategy, customer service initiative, process design.

1.2 Approach may include but is not limited to inductive, deductive, quantitative, qualitative, primary, secondary, review of literature. (Maylor, 2005; Saunders, Thornhill and Lewis, 2012; Gill and Johnson, 2010; Maylor 2017).

1.3 Research methods may include but are not limited to questionnaire, survey, interviews, focus groups, experiments, observation.

1.4 Role may include but is not limited to power, influence, levels and process of decision making, lines and limits of authority, risk management, agreeing shared goals (Friedman and Miles, 2006; Egan, 2006), advisor, sponsor, supervisor, Responsibility, Authority, Expertise, Work (RAEW)/Responsible, Accountable, Consulted, Informed (RACI) (Crane, c.1970s).

1.5 Factors may include but are not limited to schedule and milestones, deliverables, resources, contracts.
and agreements e.g. confidentiality and ethics, data protection, project planning tools (e.g. Gantt charts), assumptions, success criteria, constraints, risk analysis, communications strategy (Saunders and Lewis, 2011).

Learning outcome 2

Be able to conduct a management project

Assessment criteria

2.1 Conduct research to deliver the management project
2.2 Analyse and interpret research findings using relevant tools and techniques
2.3 Use research findings to analyse options to meet the project aim
2.4 Draw conclusions and propose recommendations

Indicative content

2.1 Research refers to data and information which is sufficient, current, authentic, reliable and valid. It may include but is not limited to review of concepts, theories and assumptions (literature review), analysis of legislation/policy/industry standards, understanding of market trends, knowledge of organisation and industry sector, comparative study across organisations/countries/cultures, primary/secondary/quantitative/qualitative data and information.

2.2 Tools and techniques may include but are not limited to use of quantitative tools such as Software tools, statistical analysis and qualitative techniques such as Framework Analysis (Pope et al, 2000), Thematic Network Analysis (Attride-Stirling, 2001), triangulation.

2.3 Analyse options refers to the use of tools such as Cost Benefit Analysis (CBA), options appraisal, key performance indicators (KPI), grid analysis, Expectancy Theory (Vroom, 1964), Rational Decision Making (Kepner Tregoe, 1965), OODA Loops (Boyd, 1998).

2.4 Conclusions may include but are not limited to summary of research, results of analysis, limitations of research, impact of limitations on findings, key themes leading to recommendations.

Recommendations may include but are not limited to priorities, actions to be taken, impact on organisation.

Recommendations for assessment

Learners may approach the assessment in two ways. All assessment criteria must be met. The following opportunities are recommendations for guidance purposes only.

1. The learner may be asked to propose, conduct and report on a management project in the workplace.
2. Learners may write a report of a management project conducted to satisfy an academic management enquiry.

Further guidance

To meet the requirements of AC1.1 Develop a proposal to conduct a management project, the learner is required to submit on outline proposal to conduct a project which must be approved before commencement of the remaining assessment criteria.

Aims of unit
Reflective practice is an essential management tool which supports the development of knowledge, skills and behaviours in the work place. By consciously analysing own performance, decision making, leadership and management skills (in different situational contexts); opportunities for ongoing development can be identified. The aim of the unit is to equip learners with the understanding of the value of reflective practice, and how reflection can be used as the basis of a meaningful personal and professional development.

Keywords
Professional development, reflection, continuous, performance, working style, opportunities, planning, professional practice, currency of practice, licence to practice, development needs, learning and development.

Learning outcome 1
Understand the value of reflective practice to inform personal and professional development

Assessment criteria

1.1 Analyse the importance of continuous personal and professional development in achieving organisational objectives

1.2 Evaluate the use of reflective practice in personal and professional development

1.3 Evaluate approaches to reflective practice

Indicative content

b.2 Continuous may include but is not limited to life-long learning, maintain currency of skills and knowledge, effectiveness, impact, achievement.

Personal knowledge and skills that may not relate to a current or future work role e.g. learning a language, mindfulness, fitness and sport.

Professional may include but are not limited to knowledge and skills that directly relate to a current or future work role e.g. a job-related qualification, professional membership or status, on job training (Pedler, Burgoyne, Boydell (2007), Mullins (2013), Torrington et al (2008)).

1.2 Reflective practice may include but is not limited to self-management, develop insights, reflexivity, decision making in different situational contexts, critical reflection to assess skills, competencies, behaviours of professionalism, self-awareness, mental toughness (Lyons, 2015), Emotional Intelligence (Goleman, 1995).

1.3 Approaches may include but are not limited to learning cycle, deep and surface learning, appraisal including self and peer review, 360 degree, methods of setting goals and reviewing progress, group and individual learning. (Model of Structured Reflection, Johns, 1994), Reflective Cycle (Gibbs, 1995), Learning Cycle (Kolb, 1984).

| 2.5 Personal development plan refers to short, medium and long term time bound objectives, development needs, resources, support, development opportunities, review and evaluation methods. |

Recommendations for assessment

Learners may approach the assessment in a number of ways. All assessment criteria must be covered. To enable this to be achieved effectively the unit has been written in the sequence in which personal reflection, review and planning is carried out.

The following opportunities are recommendations for guidance purposes only:

1. The learner should draw upon their own experiences from their current work role (paid or voluntary). Reflective practice is not constrained by being in a particular role and can include planning for a future role.
2. Learners may present work based evidence (including personal development plans) accompanied by reports or reflective accounts to meet each of the assessment criteria.

Further guidance

It is not a requirement for the learner to cover all aspects of the indicative content when completing the assessment. The learner is encouraged to select and present well chosen information and examples to evidence they sufficiently understand the assessment criteria.

Relationship with other frameworks and occupational standards

This unit is mapped to the following requirements of the Apprenticeship Standard for Operations / Departmental Manager ST0385/01:

Aims of unit
Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) and sustainability are topics keenly related to organisational accountability. Definitions and approaches taken to manage and lead CSR and sustainability vary according to the type and purpose of an organisation and its governance. Approaches typically include the development of aims and objectives, policy and strategy, with the intent to address the impact of an organisation’s activity on society, the environment and a commitment to ethical and responsible conduct.

The aim of this unit is to enable professional managers and leaders to understand CSR and sustainability in an organisational context. They will assess the enablers, constraints and barriers to its success, present a case for organisational engagement, identify approaches for its implementation and ultimately, identify strategies to gain ongoing stakeholder commitment.

Keywords
Corporate social responsibility, sustainability, enablers, constraints, barriers, theoretical concepts and frameworks, stakeholders, ethics, implementation, communication, performance improvement, success.

Learning outcome 1
Understand corporate social responsibility and sustainability in organisational contexts

Assessment criteria

1.1 Discuss organisational approaches to corporate social responsibility and sustainability
1.2 Critically assess enablers, constraints and barriers to corporate social responsibility and sustainability
1.3 Present a case for organisational commitment to corporate social responsibility and sustainability

Indicative content

1.1 Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR)*: Organisational responsibility to society (accountability). Organisational responsibility for society (compensation for negative impacts on society, contribution to societal welfare, environmental considerations). Organisational responsible conduct (operating ethically responsibly, sustainably, address impact on environment within legal and regulatory requirements). Management of an organisation of its relationships with society (e.g. codes of conduct, reputational value, legal implications). Scope of CSR (e.g. local, global, individual, organisational).

Sustainability*: Accountability for society and the environment. Inter relationship with economic well-being, commercial practices, legal and regulatory requirements. Sustainable development and resourcing (e.g. natural resources, renewable and recyclable production, green logistics, green procurement, triple bottom line ‘people, planet, profit’). Scope of sustainability (e.g. local, global, individual, organisational).

* Please note: CSR and sustainability are contested areas depending on definitions and understanding they may be viewed as separate areas or interlinked with sustainability a subset of CSR.

CSR and Sustainability theoretical concepts and frameworks: Business ethics theory (Bigg, 2004); Shareholder value theory (Friedman, 1970); Stakeholder theory (Freeman, 1984). Frameworks: United Nations Global Compact (UNGC) (2000); The CSR Pyramid (Carroll, 1979); Triple Bottom Line (Elkington, 1997). ISO 26000 Guidance on Corporate Social Responsibility (2010).

1.3 Case for organisational commitment to corporate social responsibility and sustainability: Legal and regulatory requirements, social conscience, reputation. Understanding of customer expectations, service to the local community, educational benefits, support for the arts and culture. Economic benefits, societal benefits, direction of the organisation. Achievement of charter marks, accreditations. Development of a high-performance organisation (e.g. inter-relationship between values, culture, behaviours, performance). Positive contribution to safeguarding the environment, response to environmental concerns, sustainable use of natural resources, reduction of environmental impact.

Learning outcome 2

Know how corporate social responsibility and sustainability is applied in an organisational setting

Assessment criteria

2.1 Justify an approach to leading and implementing corporate social responsibility and sustainability in an organisational context

2.2 Propose a strategy to gain ongoing stakeholder commitment to corporate social responsibility and sustainability

Indicative content

2.1 Approach to leading and implementing corporate social responsibility and sustainability:

- Rationale for corporate social responsibility and sustainability: Triggers: environmental, societal, stakeholder influence, research findings, legal and regulatory requirements.

- The case for corporate social responsibility and sustainability: Alignment between proposed strategy and organisational goals and values. Fit with organisational culture. Analysis of revenues and costs, risks, benefits. Impact on operational activities, governance, leadership and management. Resourcing. Delivery partners. Establishment of subsidiary company or foundation.

- Stakeholder engagement: Internal and external.

- Implementation plan: Pilot implementation, soft launch, ‘Big Bang’, phasing in, full roll out (dependent on size of organisation and maturity, nature of strategy).

- Monitoring and evaluation of outcomes, measurement of impact: Qualitative and quantitative measures of success, KPIs, objectives, goals, timescales.

2.2 Strategies: Communications theory (Shannon and Weaver, 1947; Parguel, Benoît-Moreau and Larceneux, 2011). Persuasion, challenging perceptions. Making sense through emotional connections. Learning and development (e.g. communities of practice, use of subject matter experts, self and directed learning programmes, coaching and mentoring, technical training). Building reputation (e.g. media presence, public engagement). Publicity (campaigns and activities for different audiences). Leadership approaches/commitment. Feedback structures to assess the practicality and success of CSR and sustainability. Persistence. Provision of time and space to allow developmental change. Lessons learned. Continuous improvement (Zwetsloot, 2003) Good practice (Jenkins, 2006). Honest conversations (Miles, Munilla and Darroch, 2006; Beer and Eisenstat, 2004)

Stakeholders: internal and external stakeholders; Stakeholder theory (Mitroff, 1983; Freeman, 1983)

Recommendations for assessment

Learners may approach the assessment in a number of ways. All assessment criteria must be met. The following opportunities are recommendations for guidance purposes only.

1. The learner will be required to produce a written report or develop a presentation on corporate social responsibility and sustainability in organisational contexts.
2. The learner may be required to develop a proposal on how corporate social responsibility and sustainability is applied in an organisational setting.
3. The learner may present work-based evidence accompanied by reports/reflective accounts to meet each of the assessment criteria.

Further guidance

It is not a requirement for the learner to cover all aspects of the indicative content when completing the assessment. The learner is encouraged to select and present well chosen information and examples to evidence they sufficiently understand the assessment criteria.

Definitions

Analyse
Break the subject or complex situation(s) into separate parts and examine each part in detail; identify the main issues and show how the main ideas are related to practice and why they are important. Reference to current research or theory may support the analysis.

Assess
Provide a reasoned judgement or rationale of the standard, quality, value or importance of something, informed by relevant facts/rationale.

Conduct
Organise and perform a particular activity

Create
Originate or produce a solution to a problem.

Develop
Elaborate, expand or progress an idea from a starting point building upon given information.

Differentiate
Recognise or ascertain a difference to identify what makes something different.

Discuss
Give a detailed account of a topic or issue using a range of views/opinions/perspectives of a contrasting nature.

Draw
Present a conclusion or decision about what is likely to happen based on facts.

Establish
Discover, prove or show something to be true or valid by determining the facts.

Evaluate
Consider the strengths and weaknesses, arguments for and against and/or similarities and differences. The writer should then judge the evidence from the different perspectives and make a valid conclusion or reasoned judgement. Apply current research or theories to support the evaluation when applicable.

Examine
Inspect (something) thoroughly in order to determine its nature of condition.

Formulate
To devise or develop an idea or concept in a concise and systematic way.

Guided Learning Hours (GLH)
The activity if a Learner in being taught or instructed by – or otherwise participating in education or training under the Immediate Guidance or Supervision of – a lecturer, supervisor, tutor or other appropriate provider of education or training.

Identify
Ascertain the origin, nature or definitive characteristics of something

Immediate Guidance or Supervision
the guidance or supervision provided to a Learner by a lecturer, supervisor, tutor or other appropriate provider of education or training –

- a) with the simultaneous physical present of the Learner and that person, or
- b) remotely by means of simultaneous electronic communication
